THE PUBLISHER
TO THE READER.

I will be found a true observation, tho' somewhat surprizing, that when any scandal is vented against a man of the highest distinction and character either in the State or in Literature, the publick in general afford it a most quiet reception, and the larger part accept it as favourably as if it were some kindness done to themselves: Whereas if a known scoundrel or blockhead chance to be but touch'd upon, a whole legion is up in Arms, and it becomes the common Cause of all Scriblers, Booksellers, and Printers whatsoever.

Not to search too deeply into the reason hereof, I will only observe as a Fact, that every week for these two Months past, the town has been perse-

cuted

cuted with Pamphlets, Advertisements, Letters, and weekly Essays, not only against the Wit and Writings, but against the Character and Person, of Mr. Pope. And that of all those men who have received pleasure from his Writings (which by modest computation may be about a hundred thousand in these Kingdoms of England and Ireland, not to mention Jersey, Guernsey, the Orcades, those in the New world, and Foreigners who have translated him into their languages) of all this number, not a man hath stood up to say one word in his defence.

The only exception is the Author of the following Poem, who doubtless had either a better insight into the grounds of this clamour, or a better opinion of Mr. Pope's integrity, join'd with a greater personal love for him, than any other of his numerous friends and admirers.

Further, that he was in his peculiar intimacy, appears from the knowledge he manifests of the most private Authors of all the anonymous pieces against him, and from his having in this Poem attacked no man living, who had not before printed and published against this particular Gentleman.

How I became possess of it, is of no concern to the the Reader; but it would have been a wrong to him, had I detain'd this publication: since those Names which are its chief ornaments, die off daily so fast, as must render it too soon unintelligible. If it provoke the Author to give us a more perfect edition, I have my end.

Who he is, I cannot say, and (which is great pity) there is certainly nothing in his style and manner of writing, which can distinguish, or discover him. For if it bears any resemblance to that of Mr. P. 'tis not improbable but it might be done on purpose, with a view to have it pass for his. But by the frequency of his allusions, to Virgil, and a labour'd, (not to say affected) shortness, in imitation of him, I should think him more an admirer of the Roman Poet than of the Grecian, and in that, not of the same taste with his Friend.

I have been well inform'd, that this work was the labour of full six years of his life, and that he retir'd himself entirely from all the avocations and pleasures of the world, to attend diligently to its correction and perfection; and six years more he intended to bestow upon it, as it should seem by this verse of Statius, which was cited at the head of his manuscript.

Oh

Oh mihi dissenos multum vigilata per annos,
Duncia! —————

Hence also we learn the true Title of the Poem; which with the same certainty as we call that of Homer the Iliad, of Virgil the Aeneid, of Camoens the Lusiad, of Voltaire the Henriad, we may pronounce could have been, and can be no other, than

THE DUNCIAD.

It is styled Heroic, as being doubly so; not only with respect to its nature, which according to the best Rules of the Ancients and strictest ideas of the Moderns, is critically such; but also with regard to the Heroical disposition and high courage of the Writer, who dar'd to stir up such a formidable, irritable, and implacable race of mortals.

The time and date of the Action is evidently in the last reign, when the office of City Poet expir'd upon the death of Elkanah Settle, and he has fix'd it to the Mayoralty of Sir Geo. Tho——ld. But there may arise some

some obscurity in Chronology from the Names in the Poem, by the inevitable removal of some Authors, and Insertion of others, in their Niches. For whoever will consider the unity of the whole design, will be sensible, that the Poem was not made for these Authors, but these Authors for the Poem. And I should judge they were clapp'd in as they rose, fresh and fresh, and chang'd from day to day, in like manner as when the old baughs wither, we thrust new ones into a chimney.

I would not have the reader too much troubled or anxious, if he cannot decypher them; since when he shall have found them out, he will probably know no more of the Persons than before.

Yet we judg'd it better to preserve them as they are, than to change them for fictitious names, by which the Satyr would only be multiplied; and applied to many instead of one. Had the Hero, for instance, been called Codrus, how many would have affirm'd him to be Mr. W—— Mr. D—— Sir R—— B——, &c. but now, all that unjust scandal is saved, by calling him Theobald, which by good luck happens to be the name of a real person.

I am

viii The PUBLISHER, &c.

I am indeed aware, that this name may to some appear too mean, for the Hero of an Epic Poem? But it is hoped, they will alter that opinion, when they find, that an Author no less eminent than La Bruyere, has thought him worthy a place in his Characters.

Voudriez vous, THEOBALDE, que je crusse que vous êtes baïssé? que vous n'êtes plus Poete, ni bel esprit? que vous êtes presentement aussi Mauvais juge de tout genre d'Ouvrage, que Mechant Auteur? Votre air libre & presumptueux me rassure, & me persuade tout le contraire, &c. Characters, Vol. I. de la Societe & de la Conversation, pag. 176. Edit. Amst. 1720.

BOOKS and the man I sing, the first who brings

The Smithfield muses to the ears of kings.
Say great Patticians! (since yourselves inspire

These wond'rous works; so Jove and fate require!)

- 5 Say from what cause, in vain decry'd and curst,
Still † Dunce the second-reigns like Dunce the first?

In eldest time, e'er mortals writ or read,

E'er Pallas issued from the Thund'rer's head,

B

Dulness

Dulness o'er all possess'd her antient right,
 10 Daughter of Chaos and eternal Night;

Fate in their dotage this fair idiot gave,
 Gross as her fire, and as her mother grave,
 Laborious, heavy, busy, bold, and blind,
 She rul'd, in native anarchy, the mind.

15 Still her old empire to confirm, she tries,
 For born a Goddess, Dulness never dies.

Where wave the tatter'd ensigns of Rag-Fair,

A yawning ruin hangs and nods in air;
 Keen, hollow winds howl thro' the bleak recess,
 20 Emblem of music caus'd by emptiness:
 Here in one bed two shiv'ring sisters lye,
 The cave of Poverty and Poetry.

This, the Great Mother dearer held than all

The clubs of Quidnunc's, or her own Guild-hall:

25 Here stood her Opium, here she nurs'd her Owls,
 And destin'd here th' imperial seat of fools.

Hence springs each weekly muse, the living boast
 Of C——'s chaste press, and L——'s rubric post;

BOOK the FIRST.

Hence hymning Tyburn's elegiac lay,
 30 Hence the soft sing-song on Cecilia's day,
Sepulchral lyes our holy walls to grace,
 And New-year Odes, and all the Grubstreet race.

'Twas here in clouded majesty she shone;
 Four guardian Victues, round, support her throne;
 35 Fierce champion Fortitude, that knows no fears
 Of hisses, blows, or want, or loss of ears:
Calm Temperance, whose blessings those partake
 Who hunger, and who thirst for scribbling sake:
Prudence, whose glass presents th' approaching jayl;
 40 Poetic Justice, with her lifted scale;
 Where in nice balance, truth with gold she weighs,
 And solid pudding against empty praise.

Here she beholds the Chaos dark and deep,
 Where nameless somebings in their causes sleep.
 45 Till genial Jacob, or a warm third-day
 Calls forth each mass, a poem or a play.
 How hints, like spawn, scarce quick in embryo lies;
 How new-born nonsense first is taught to cry;

- Maggots half-form'd, in rhyme exactly meet,
 50 And learn to crawl upon poetic feet.
 Here one poor Word a hundred clenches makes,
 And ductile dulness new meanders takes;
 There motley Images her fancy strike,
Figures ill-pair'd, and Similes unlike.
 55 She sees a mob of Metaphors advance,
 Pleas'd with the madness of the mazy dances:
 How Tragedy and Comedy embrace;
 How Farce and Epic get a jumbled race;
 How Time himself stands still at her command,
 60 Realms shift their place, and Ocean turns to land:
 Here gay Description Egypt glads with showers,
 Or gives to Zembla fruits, to Barca flowers;
 Glitt'ring with ice here hoary hills are seen,
 There painted vallies of eternal green,
 65 On cold December fragrant chaplets blow,
 And heavy harvest nod beneath the snow.

All these and more, the cloud-compelling Queen
 Beholds thro' fogs, that magnify the scene;

She,

BOOK the FIRST.

She, tinsel'd o'er in robes of varying hues,
 70 With self-applause her wild creation views,
 Sees momentary monsters rise and fall,
 And with her own fools-colours gilds them all:

'Twas on the day, when * The—d, rich and grave,
 Like || Cimon triumph'd both on land and wave,
 75 (Pomps without guilt, of bloodless swords and maces,
 Glad chains, warm furs, broad banners, and broad faces)
 Now night descending, the proud scene was o'er,
 Yet liv'd, in Settle's numbers, one day more.
 Now May's and Shrieves in pleasing slumbers lay,
 80 And eat in dreams the custard of the day:
 But pensive poets painful vigils keep;
 Sleepless themselves, to give their readers sleep.
 Much to her mind the solemn feast recalls,
 What City-Swans once sung within the walls,
 85 Much she revolves their arts, their ancient praise,
 And sure succession down from * Heywood's days.

* Sir George The— Lord Mayor of London. || Cimon the famous Athenian general, who obtained a victory by sea and another by land, on the same day, over the Persians and Barbarians. * John Heywood, whose Enterludes were printed in Hen. VIIIth's time.

She saw with joy the line immortal run;
 Each fire impress'd and glaring in his son;
 So watchful Brain forms with plastic care;
 90 Each growing lump, and brings it to a Bear!
 She saw old Pryn in restless Daniel shine,
 And E—n eke out Bl—'s endless line;
 She saw slow P—s creep like T—te's poor page,
 And furious D—s foam in W—'s rage.

95 In each, she marks her image full express,
 But chief, in Tibbald's monster-breeding breast,
 Sees Gods with Dæmons in strange league ingage,
 And * earth, and heav'n, and hell her battles wage !

She ey'd the Bard where supperless he sat,
 100 And pin'd, unconscious of his rising fate,
 Studious he sat, with all his books around,
 Sinking from thought to thought, a vast profound !
 Plung'd for his sense, but found no bottom there,
 Then writ, and flounder'd on, in mere despair.

* This, I presume, alludes to the extravagancies of the Farces of this author. See book III. vers. 185, &c.

- 105 He roll'd his eyes that witness'd huge dismay,
 Where yet unpawn'd, much learned lumber lay,
 Volumes, whose size the space exactly fill'd;
 Or which fond authors were so good to gild;
 Or where, by Sculpture made for ever known,
 110 The page admires new beauties, not its own.
 Here swells the shelf with Oglsby the great,
 There, stamp'd with arms, Newcastle shines compleat,
 Here all his suff'ring brotherhood retire,
 And 'scape the martyrdom of jakes and fire;
 115 A Gothic Vatican! of Greece and Rome
 Well-purg'd, and worthy W—s, Q—s, and Bl—

But high above, more solid Learning shone,
 The Classicks of an Age that heard of none;
 There * Caxton slept, with Wyntkin at his side,
 120 One clasp'd in wood, and one in strong cow-hide:
 There sav'd by spice, like mummies, many a year,
 Old Bodies of philosophy appear:
De Lyra there a dreadful front extends,
 And there, the groaning Shelves § Philemon bends.

* Old Printers.

§ Philemon Holland.

Of

- 125 Of these twelve volumes, twelve of amplest size,
 Redeem'd from tapers and defrauded pyes,
 Inspir'd he seizes : These an altar raise :
 An hecatomb of pure, unsully'd lays
 That altar crowns ; a folio Common-place
 130 Founds the whole pyle, of all his works the base :
 Quarto's, octavo's, shape the lessening pyre,
 And last, a * little Ajax tips the spire.

- Then he Great Tamer of all human art !
 First in my care, and nearest at my heart !
 135 Dulness ! whose good old cause I yet defend,
 With whom my muse began, with whom shall end !
 Oh thou ! of business the directing soul,
 To human heads like byas to the bowl,
 Which as more pond'rous makes their aim more true,
 140 Obliquely wadling to the mark in view.
 O ever gracious to perplex'd mankind !
 Who spread a healing mist before the mind.
 And, lest we err by wit's wild, dancing light,
 Secure us kindly in our native night.

* In duodecimo, translated from Sophocles.

Ah !

BOOK the FIRST.

- 145 Ah! still o'er Britain stretch that peaceful wand,
Which lulls th' Helvetian and Batavian land.
Where 'gainst thy throne if rebel Science rise,
She does but show her coward face and dies:
There, thy good Scholiasts with unweary'd pains
- 150 Make Horace flat, and humble Marc's strains:
Here studious I unlucky Moderns save,
Nor sleeps one error in its father's grave,
Old puns restore, lost blunders nicely seek,
And crucify poor Shakespear once a week.
- 155 For thee I dim these eyes, and stuff this head,
With all such reading as was never read;
For thee supplying, in the worst of days,
Notes to dull books, and prologues to dull plays:
For thee explain a thing till all men doubt it,
- 160 And write about it, Goddess, and about it;
So spins the silkworm small its slender store,
And labours, 'till it clouds itself all o'er.
Not that my quill to Critiques was confin'd,
My Verse gave ampler lessons to mankind;
- 165 So graver precepts may successful prove,
But sad examples never fail to move.

As

- As forc'd from wind-guns, lead it self can fly,
 And pond'rous slugs cut swiftly thro' the sky;
 As clocks to weight their nimble motion owe,
 170 The wheels above urg'd by the load below;
 Me, Emptiness and Dulness could inspire,
 And were my Elasticity and Fire.
 Had heav'n decreed such works a longer date,
 Heav'n had decreed to spare the Grubstreet-state.
 175 But see * great Settle to the dust descend;
 And all thy cause and empire at an end.
 Cou'd Troy be sav'd by any single hand,
 His gray-goose-weapon must have made her stand.
 But what can I! my Flaccus cast aside,
 180 Take up th' Attorney's (once my better) Guide?
 Or rob the Roman geese of all their glories,
 And save the state by cackling to the Tories?
 Yes, to my country I my pen consign,
 Yes, from this moment, mighty Mist! am thine,

* This was the last year of Elkanah Settle's life. He was poet to the city of London, whose business was to compose yearly panegyrics on the Lord Mayor, and verses for the Pageants; but since the abolition of that part of the shows, the employment ceas'd, so that Settle had no successor to that place,

185 And rival, Curtius ! of thy fame and zeal,
 O'er head and ears plunge for the public weal.
 Adieu my children ! better thus expire
 Un-stall'd, unfold ; thus glorious mount in fire
 Fair without spot ; than greas'd by grocer's hands,
 190 Or shipp'd with W— to ape and monkey lands,
 Or wasting ginger, round the streets to go,
 And visit alehouse where ye first did grow.

With that, he list'd thrice the sparkling brand,
 And thrice he dropt it from his quiv'ring hand :
 195 Then lights the structure, with averted eyes ;
 The rowling smokes involve the sacrifice.
 The opening clouds disclose each work by turns,
 Now flames old * Memnon, now Rodrigo burns,
 In one quick flash see Proserpine expire,
 200 And last, his own cold Æschylus took fire.
 Then gush'd the tears, as from the Trojan's eyes
 When the last blaze sent Ilium to the skies.

* Plays and Farces of T—d.

Rowz'd

And

Rowz'd by the light, old Dulness heav'd the head,
 Then snatch'd a sheet of Thule from her Bed,
 205 Sudden she flies, and whelms it o'er the pyre :
 Down sink the flames, and with a hiss expire.

Her ample presence fills up all the place ;
 A veil of fogs dilates her awful face,
 Great in her charms ! as when on Shrieves and May'rs
 210 She looks, and breathes herself into their airs.
 She bids him wait her to the sacred Dome ;
 Well-pleas'd he enter'd, and confess'd his home.
 So spirits, ending their terrestrial race,
 Ascend, and recognize their native place :
 215 Raptur'd, he gazes round the dear retreat,
 And * in sweet numbers celebrates the feat.

Here to her chosen all her works she shows ;
 Prose swell'd to verse, Verse lostring into prose :
 How random thoughts now meaning chance to find,
 220 Now leave all memory of sense behind ;

* He writ a poem called the Case of Poverty, printed in 1715.

How

How Prologues into Prefaces decay,
And those to Notes are fritter'd quite away:
How Index-learning turns no student pale,
Yet holds the eel of science by the Tail :

- 225 How, with less reading than makes felons 'scape,
Less human genius than God gives an ape,
Small thanks to France, and none to Rome or Greece,
A past, vamp'd, future, old, reviv'd, new piece,
'Twixt Plautus, Fletcher, Congreve, and Corneille,
230 Can make a C—r, Jo—n, or O—ll.

- The Goddess then, o'er his anointed head,
With mystic words the sacred Opium shed ;
And lo ! her Bird (a monster of a fowl !
Something betwixt a H— and Owl)
235 Perch'd on his crown. All hail ! and hail again
My son ! the promis'd land expects thy reign.
Know Settle, cloy'd with custard and with praise,
Is gather'd to the Dull of antient days,
Safe, where no criticks damn, no duns molest,
240 Where G—n, B—, and high-born H— rest !

I see a King! who leads my chosen sons
 To lands that flow with clenches and with puns:
 'Till each fam'd theatre my empire own,
 'Till Albion, as Hibernia, bless my throne.

245 I see! I see! — Then rapt, she spoke no more,
God save King Tibbald! Grubstreet alleys roar.

So when Jove's block descended from on high,
 (As sings thy great fore-father, Ogilby),

Hoarse thunder to its bottom shook the bog,

250 And the loud nation croak'd, God save King Log!

End of the First Book.

THE DUNCIAD.

Book the SECOND.

THE sons of Dulness meet : an endless band
Pours forth, and leaves unpeopled half
the land,

A motley mixture! in long wigs, in bags,
In silks, in crapes, in garters, and in rags ;
5 From drawing rooms, from colleges, from garrets,
On horse, on foot, in hacks, and gilded chariots,
All who true Dunces in her cause appear'd,
And all who knew those Dunces to reward.

Now herald hawker's rusty voice proclaims

10 Heroic prizes, and advent'rous Games ;

In that wide space the Goddess took her stand

Where the tall May-pole once o'erlook'd the Strand ;

But now (so ANNE and Piety ordain)

A Church collects the saints of Drury-lane.

15 With authors, stationers obey'd the call ;

The field of glory is a field for all ;

Glory, and gain, th' industrious tribe provoke,

And gentle Dulness ever loves a joke.

A Poet's Form she sets before their eyes,

20 And bids the nimblest racer seize the prize ;

No meagre, muse-rid mope, adust and thin,

In a dun night-gown of his own loose skin ;

But such a bulk as no twelve bards could raise,

Twelve starving bards of these degen'rate days.

25 All as a partridge plump, full-fed, and fair,

She form'd this image of well-bodied air,

With pert flat eyes she window'd well its head,

A brain of feathers, and a heart of lead,

And

And empty words she gave, and sounding strain!

30 But senseless, lifeless! Idol void and vain!

Never was dash't out, at one-lucky hit,

A fool, so just a copy of a wit;

So like, that criticks said and courtiers swore,

A wit it was, and call'd the phantom, M——.

35 All gaze with ardour: some, a Poe's name,

Others, a sword-knot and lac'd suit inflame:

But lofty L——t in the circle rose;

" This prize is mine; who tempt it, are my foes:

" With me began this genius, and shall end:

40 He spoke, and who with L——t shall contend?

Fear held them mute. Alone, untaught to fear,
Stood dauntless C——t, " Behold that rival here!

" The race by vigor, not by vaunts is won;

" So take the hindmost Hell. —He said, and run.

45 Swift as a bard the bailiff leaves behind,

He left huge L——t, and out-stript the wind.

As when a dab-chick waddles thro' the copse,

On legs and wings, and flies, and wades, and hops;

So lab'ring on, with shoulders, hands, and head,
 50 Wide as a windmill all his figure spread,
 With steps unequal L—t urg'd the race,
 And seem'd to emulate great Jacob's pace.
 Full in the middle way there stood a lake,
 Which C—t's Corinna chanc'd that morn to make,
 55 (Such was her wont, at early dawn to drop
 Her evening eates before his neighbour's shop.)
 Here fortun'd C—t to slide, loud shout the band,
 And L—t, L—t, rings thro' all the Strand.
 Obscene with filth the varlet lies bewray'd,
 60 Fal'n in the plash his wickedness had lay'd
 Then first (if Poets ought of truth declare)
 The caitiff Vaticide conceiv'd a prayer.

Here Jove! whose name my bards and I adore,
 As much at least as any Gods, or more;
 65 And him and his, if more devotion warms,
 Down with the * Bible, up with the † Pope's Arms.

* The Bible C—t's sign.

† The Cross-keys L—t's.

‡ A place there is, betwixt earth, air and seas,
Where from Ambrosia, Jove retires for ease.

There in his seat two spacious Vents appear,

70 On this he sits, to that he leans his ear,

There hears the various vows of fond mankind,

Some beg an eastern, some a western wind:

All vain petitions, sent by winds on high,

With reams abundant this abode supply;

75 Amus'd he reads, and then returns the bills

Sign'd with that Ichor which from Gods distills.

In office here fair Cloacina stands,

And ministers to Jove with purest hands;

Forth from the heap she pick'd her Vor'ry's pray'r,

80 And plac'd it next him, a distinction rare!

Oft, as he fish'd her nether realms for wit,

The Goddess favour'd him, and favours yet.

Renew'd by ordure's sympathetic force,

As oil'd with magic juices for the course,

85 Vig'rous he rises; from th' effluvia strong

Imbibes new life, and scours and stinks along,

‡ See Lucian's Icaro-Menippus.

Re-

Re-passes L—t, vindicates the race,
Nor heeds the brown dishonours of his face.

And now the victor stretch'd his eager hand,
90 Where the tall Nothing stood, or seem'd to stand;
A shapeless shade, it melted from his sight,
Like forms in clouds, or visions of the night!
Baffled, yet present ev'n amidst despair,
To seize his papers, C—l, was next thy care;
95 His papers all, the sportive winds up-lift,
And whisk 'em back to G—, to Y—, to S—.
Th' embroider'd suit, at least, he deem'd his prey;
That suit, an unpay'd Taylor snatch'd away!
No rag, no scrap, of all the beau, or wit,
100 That once so flutter'd, and that once so writ.

Heav'n rings with laughter: Of the laughter vain,
Dulness, good Queen, repeats the jest again.
Three wicked imps of her own Grubstreet Choir
She deck'd like Congreve, Addison, and Prior;
105 Mears, Warner, Wilkins run: Delusive thought!
*, *, and *, the wretches caught.

C—l,

BOOK the SECOND.

21

C—/ stretches after Gay, but Gay is gone,

He grasps an empty † Joseph for a John.

So Proteus, hunted in a nobler shape,

110 Became, when seiz'd, a Puppy or an Ape.

To him the Goddess. Son, thy grief lay down,

And turn this whole illusion on the town.

As the sage dame experienc'd in her trade,

By names of Toasts retails each batter'd jade,

115 (Whence hapless Monsieur much complains at Paris

Of wrongs from Duchesses and Lady Marys)

Be thine, my stationer! this magic gift;

C— shall be Prior, and C—n, Swift;

So shall each hostile name become our own,

120 And we too boast our Garth and Addison.

With that the Goddess (piteous of his case,

Yet smiling at his ruful length of face)

Gives him a cov'ring, worthy to be spread

On Codrus' old, or * * 's modern bed;

† Joseph Gay, a fictitious name put by C—/ before several pamphlets.

Instructive

125 Instructive work ! whose wry-mouth'd portraiture

Display'd the fates her confessors endure.

Ear-les's on high, stood * pillory'd D—

And T— flagrant from the lash, below:

There kick'd and cudgel'd R— might ye view,

The very worsted still look'd black and blue:

130 Himself among the storied chiefs he spies,

As from the blanket high in air he flies,

And oh ! (he cry'd) what street, what lane but knows

Our purgings, pumpings, blanketings and blows?

In ev'ry loom our labors shall be seen,

135 And the fresh vomit run for ever green !

See in the circle next, Eliza plac'd ;

Two babes of love close clinging to her waste ;

Fair as before her works she stands confess'd,

In flow'r'd brocade by bounteous Kirkall dress'd,

140 Pearls on her neck, and roses in her hair,

And her fore-buttocks to the navel bare.

* It appears from hence that Mr. Carl had not himself stood in the Pillory when this Poem was writ, which happen'd not till March, 1718. at Charing-Cross.

BOOK the SECOND. 23

The Goddess then: "Who best can send on high

"The salient spout, fair-streaming to the sky;

"His be yon Juno of majestic size,

145 "With cow-like udders, and with ox-like eyes.

"This Cbina-Jordan, let the chief o'ercome

"Replenish, not ingloriously, at home.

Cb----- and C----- accept this glorious strife,

(Tho' one his Son dissuades, and one his Wife)

150 This on his manly confidence relies,

That on his vigor and superior size.

First C----- lean'd against his letter'd post;

It rose, and labour'd to a curve at most:

So Jove's bright bow displays its watry round,

155 (Sure sign, that no spectator shall be drown'd)

A second effort brought but new disgrace,

For straining more, it flies in his own face;

Thus the small jett which hasty hands unlock,

Spirits in the gard'ners eyes who turns the cock.

160 Not so from shameless C-----: Impetuous spread

The stream, and smothering, flourish'd o'er his head.

So, (fear'd like thee for turbulence and horns,)

Eridanus his humble fountain scorns,

Thro'

Thro' half the heav'ns he pours th' exalted urn;
 165 His rapid waters in their passage burn.

Swift as it mounts, all follow with their eyes;
 Still happy, Impudence obtains the prize.
 Thou triumph'st, Victor of the high-wrought day,
 And the pleas'd dame soft-smiling leads away.
 170 ~~Ch—d~~, through perfect modesty o'ercome,
 Crown'd with the Jordan, walks contented home.

But now for Authors nobler palms remain:
 Room for my Lord! three Jockeys in his train;
 Six huntmen with a shout precede his chair;
 175 He grins, and looks broad nonsense with a stare.
 His honour'd meaning, Dulness thus exprest.
 "He wins this Patron who can tickle best."

He chinks his purse, and takes his seat of state,
 With ready quills the Dedicators wait,
 180 Now at his head the dext'rous task commence,
 And instant, fancy feels th' imputed sense;

BOOK the SECOND.

Now gentle touches wanton o'er his face,
 He struts Adonis, and affects grimace :
 R—— the feather to his ear conveys,
 185 Then his nice taste directs our Operas :
 * * his mouth with Classic flatt'ry opes,
 And the puffed Orator bursts out in tropes.
 But O—— the Poet's healing balm
 Strives to extract from his soft, giving palm ;
 190 Unlucky O—— ! thy lordly master
 The more thou ticklest, gripes his fist the faster.

While thus each hand promotes the pleasing pain,
 And quick sensations skip from vein to vein,
 A youth unknown to Phæbus, in despair,
 195 Puts his last refuge all in Heav'n and Pray'r.
 What force have pious vows ? the Queen of Love
 His Sister sends, her vot'refs, from above.
 As taught by Venus, Paris learnt the art
 To touch Achilles' only tender part,
 200 Secure, thro' her, the noble prize to carry,
 He marches off, his Grace's Secretary.

New

- Now turn to different sports (the Goddess cries)
 And learn, my sons, the wond'rous pow'r of Noise
 To move, to raise, to ravish ev'ry heart,
 With Shakespear's nature, or with Johnson's art,
 205 Let others aim : 'Tis yours to shake the soul
 With Thunder rumbling from the mustard-bowl,
 With borns and trumpets now to madness swell,
 Now sink in sorrows with a tolling Bell.
 Such happy arts attention can command,
 210 When fancy flags, and sense is at a stand :
 Improve we these. Three Cat-calls be the bribe
 Of him, whose chatt'ring shames the Monkey tribe
 And his this Drum, whose hoarse heroic base
 Drowns the loud Clarion of the braying Ass.
 215 Now thousand tongues are heard in one loud din
 The Monkey-mimicks rush discordant in ;
 'Twas chatt'ring, grinning, mouthing, jabb'ring
 Noise, Nonsense, N—n, Brangling, and B—
 D—s and Dissonance ; And captious Art,
 220 And Snip-snap short, and Interruption smart.

BOOK the SECOND.

27

Hold (cry'd the Queen) ye all alike shall win,
Equal your merits, equal is your din;
But that this well-disputed game may end,
Sound forth my Brayers, and the welkin rend.

- 225 As when the long-ear'd, milky mothers wait
At some sick miser's triple-bolted gate,
For their defrauded, absent foals they make
A moan so loud, that all the Guild awake:
Sore sighs Sir G——, starting at the bray
230 From dreams of millions, and three groats to pay.
So swells each Windpipe; As intones to As,
Harmonic twang! of leather, horn, and brass:
Such as from lab'ring lungs th' Enthusiast blows,
High sounds, attempted to the vocal nose.
235 But far o'er all sonorous Bl——'s strain,
Walls, steeples, skies, bray back to him again:
In Tot'nham fields, the brethren with amaze
Prick all their ears up, and forget to graze;
Long Chanc'ry-lane retentive rolls the sound,
240 And courts to courts return it round and round;

D 2

Thames

Thames wafts it thence to Rufus' roaring hall,
 And H——d re-ecchoes, bawl for bawl.
 All hail him victor in both gifts of Song,
 Who sings so loudly, and who sings so long.

- 245 This labor past, by Bridewell all descend,
 (As morning pray'r and flagellation end.)
 To where Fleetditch with discomboguing streams
 Rolls the large tribute of dead dogs to Thames,
 The King of Dykes ! than-whom, no sluice of mud
 250 With deeper sable blots the silver flood.
 ' Here strip my children ! here at once leap in !
 ' Here prove who best can dash thro' thick and thin,
 ' And who the most in love of dirt excel,
 ' Or dark dexterity of groping well.
 255 ' Who flings most mud, and wide pollutes around
 ' The stream, be his the * * * Journals, bound.
 ' A pig of lead to him who dives the best ;
 ' A peck of coals a-piece shall glad the rest.

In naked majesty great D—— stands,
 260 And, Milo-like, surveys his arms and hands
 Then

Then fighting, thus. "And am I now threefold?

"Ah why, ye Gods! should two and two make four?

He said, and climb'd a stranded Lighter's height

Shot to the black abyss, and plung'd down-right.

265 The senior's judgment all the crowd admire,

Who but to sink the deeper, rose the higher.

Next E—div'd; flow circles dimpled o'er

The quaking mud, that clos'd and open'd no more:

All look, all sigh, and call on E—lost;

270 E— in vain resounds thro' all the coast.

H—try'd the next, but hardly snatch'd from sight,

Instant buoys up, and rises into light;

He bears no token of the fabler streams,

And mounts far off, among the swans of Thames.

275 Far worse unhappy D—succeeds,

He search'd for coral, but he gather'd weeds.

True to the bottom,  and  creep,

Long-winded both, as natives of the deep,

This only merit pleading for the prize,

280 Not everlasting B!— this denies.

But nimbler W——d reaches at the ground,

Circles in mud, and darkness all around,

No crab more active, in the dirty dance,

Downward to climb, and backward to advance;

285 He brings up half the bottom on his head,

And boldly claims the Journals and the Lead.

Sudden, a burst of thunder shook the flood,

Lo E— rose, tremendous all in mud!

Shaking the horrors of his fable brows,

290 And each ferocious feature grim with ooze,

Greater he looks, and more than mortal stares;

Then thus the wonders of the deep declares.

First he relates, how sinking to the chin,

Smit with his mien, the Mudnymphs suck'd him in,

295 How young Lutetia softer than the down,

Nigrina black, and Merdamante brown,

Vy'd

Vy'd for his love in jetty bow'rs below:

As Hylas fair was ravish'd long ago.

Then sung how, shown him by the nutbrown maids

oo A branch of Styx here rises from the Shades,

That tinctur'd as it runs with Lethe's streams,

And wafting vapors from the Land of Dreams,

(As under seas Alpheus' sacred sluice

Bears Pisa's offerings to his Aretbuse)

305 Pours into Thames: Each City-bowl is full

Of the mixt wave, and all who drink grow dull.

How to the banks where bards departed doze,

They led him soft; how all the bards arose;

Taylor, sweet bird of Thames, majestic bows,

310 And Sh— nods the poppy on his brows;

While Milbourn there, deputed by the rest,

Gave him the cassock, surcingle, and vest;

And "Take (he said) these robes which once were

" Dulness is sacred in a sound Divine. (mine,

315 He ceas'd, and show'd the robe; the crowd confess

The rev'rend Flamen in his lengthen'd dress.

Slow

Slow moves the Goddess from the silver flood,
(Her Priest preceding) thro' the gates of Lud.

Her Criticks there she summons, and proclaims
320 A gentler exercise to close the games.

Hear you! in whose grave heads, as equal scales,
I weigh what author's heaviness prevails,
Which most conduce to sooth the soul in slumbers,
My H—'s periods, or my Bl—'s numbers?

525 Attend the trial we propose to make:

If there be man who o'er such works can wake,
Sleep's all-subduing Power who dares defy,
And boasts Ulysses' ear with Argus' eye;

To him we grant our amplest pow'rs to fit

330 Judge of all present, past, and future wit,

To cavil, censure, dictate, right or wrong,

Fulk, and eternal privilege of tongue.

Three Cambridge Sophs and three pert Templars came,

The same their talents, and their tastes the same;

Each

- 335 Each prompt to query, answer, and debate,
And smit with love of poeſie and prate.
The pond'rous books two gentle Readers bring;
The heroes ſit; the vulgar form a ring.
The clam'rous crowd is huſh'd with ſnugs of Mum,
340 'Till all tun'd equal, ſend a general hum.
Then mount the Clerks; and in one lazy tone,
Thro' the long, heavy, painful page, drawl on,
Soft creeping words on words the ſenſe compoſe,
At e'vry line, they ſtretch, they yawn, they doze.
345 As to ſoft gales top-heavy pines bow low
Their heads, and liſt them as they ceale to blow,
Thus oft they rear, and oft the head decline,
As breathe, or pauſe, by fits, the airs divine.
And now to this ſide, now to that, they nod,
350 As verſe, or proſe, infuſe the drowzy God.
Thrice B— aim'd to ſpeak, but thrice ſuppreſt
By potent Arthur, knock'd his chin and breaſt.
C— and T—, prompt at Prielts to jeer,
Yet ſilent bow'd to Chriſt's no kingdom here.
355 Who ſate the neareſt, by the word's o'ercome
Slept firſt, the diſtant nodded to the hum.

Then

Then down are roll'd the books; stretch'd o'er 'em lies

Each gentle clerk, and mutt'ring seals his eyes.

As what a Dutchman plumps into the lakes,

360 One circle first, and then a second makes,

What dulness dropt among her sons imprest

Like motion, from one circle to the rest;

So from the mid-moſt the nutation ſpreads

Round, and more round, o'er all the ſea of heads.

365 At laſt C—re felt her voice to fail,

And  himſelf unfiniſh'd left his Tale.

T—s and T— the church and ſtate gave o'er,

Nor  talk'd, nor S—- whisper'd more.

Ev'n N——n, gifted with his mother's tongue,

370 Tho' born at Wapping, and from Daniel ſprung,

Ceas'd his loud bawling breath, and dropt the head;

And all was hush'd, as Folly's ſelf lay dead.

Thus the ſoft gifts of Sleep conclude the day,

And ſtretch'd on bulks, as uſual, Poets lay.

375 Why ſhould I ſing what bards the Nightly Muſe

Did ſlumbring viſit, and convey to ſtews?

Or prouder march'd, with magistrates in state,
To some fam'd round-house, ever open gate!

How E—— lay inspir'd beside a fink,

380 And to mere mortals seem'd a Priest in drink?

All others timely, to the neighbouring Fleet

(Haunt of the Muses) made their safe retreat.

BOOK the THIRD.

UT in her Temple's last recess inclos'd,
On Dulness's lap th' Anointed head repos'd.
Him close she curtain'd round with vapors
blue,

And soft besprinkled with Cimmerian dew.

- 5 Then Raptures high the seat of sense o'erflow,
Which only heads refin'd from reason know:
Hence from the straw where Bedlam's Prophet nods,
He hears loud Oracles, and talks with Gods;
Hence the Fool's paradise, the Statesman's scheme,
10 The air-built Castle, and the golden Dream,

The

The Maids romantic wish, the Chymists flame,
And Poets vision of eternal fame.

And now, on Fancy's easy wing convey'd,

The King descended to th' Elyzian shade,

15 There in a dusky vale where Lethe rolls,

Old Bavius sits, to dip poetic souls,

And blunt the sense, and fit it for a skull

Of solid proof, impenetrably dull.

Instant when dipt, away they wing their flight,

20 Where * Brown and Mear, unbar the gates of Light,

Demand new bodies, and in Calf's array

Rush to the world, impatient for the day.

Millions and millions on these banks he views,

Thick as the Stars of night, or morning dews,

25 As thick as bees o'er vernal blossoms fly,

As thick as eggs at *W—*d in pillory.

Wond'ring he gaz'd: When lo! a Sage appears,

By his broad shoulders known, and length of ears,

Known

- Known by the band and suit which Settle wore,
 30 (His only suit) for twice three years before.
 All as the Vest, appear'd the wearer's frame,
 Old in new state, another, yet the same.
 Bland and familiar as in life, begun
 Thus the great Father to the greater Son.
- 35 Oh! born to see what none can see awake!
 Behold the wonders of th' Oblivious Lake.
 Thou, yet unborn, hast touch'd this sacred shore,
 The hand of Bavius drench'd thee o'er and o'er.
 But blind to former, as to future, Fate,
 40 What mortal knows his pre-existent state?
 Who knows how long, thy transmigrating soul
 Did from Bæotian to Bæotian roll?
 How many Dutchmen she vouchsaf'd to thrid?
 How many stages thro' old Monks she rid?
- 45 And all who since, in mild benighted days,
 Mix'd the Owl's ivy with the Poet's bays?
 As Man's mæanders to the vital spring
 Roll all their tydes, then back their circles bring;

Or whirligigs, twirl'd round by skilful swain,
 50 Suck the thread in, then yield it out again :
 All nonsense thus, of old or modern date,
 Shall in thee centre, from thee circulate.
 For this, our Queen unfolds to vision true
 Thy mental eye, for thou hast much to view :
 55 Old scenes of glory, times long cast behind,
 Shall first recall'd, rush forward to thy mind ;
 Then stretch thy sight o'er all her rising reign,
 And let the past and future fire thy brain.

Ascend this hill, whose cloudy point commands
 60 Her boundless Empire over seas and lands.
 See round the Poles where keener spangles shine,
 Where spices smoke beneath the burning Line,
 (Earth's wide extreams) her sable flag display'd ;
 And all the nations cover'd in her shade !

65 Far Eastward cast thy eye, from whence the Sun
 And orient Science at a birth begun.
 One man immortal all that pride confounds.
 He, whose long Wall the wand'ring Tartar bounds.

* Heav'ns! what a pyle! whole ages perish there:

70 And one bright blaze turns Learning into air.

Thence to the South as far extend thy eyes;

There rival flames with equal glory rise,

From shelves to shelves † see greedy Vulcan roll,

And lick up all their Physick of the Soul.

75 How little, see † that portion of the ball,

Where faint at best the beams of science fall!

Against her throne, from Hyperborean skies,

In dulness strong, th' avenging Vandals rise;

Lo where Marot's sleeps, and hardly flows

80 The freezing Tanais thro' a waste of snows,

The North by myriads pours her mighty fons,

Great nurse of Goths, of Alans, and of Huns.

See Alaric's stern port, the martial frame

Of Genferic, and Attila's dread name!

* Ho-am-ti, Emperor of China, the same who built the great wall between China and Tartary, destroyed all the books and learned men of that empire.

† The Caliph, Omar I. having conquer'd Egypt, caus'd his General to burn the Ptolomean library, on the gates of which was this inscription, Medicina Anima.

See!

85 See! the bold Ostrogoths on Latium fall;
 See! the fierce Visigoths on Spain and Gaul.
 See! where the morning gilds the palmy shore,
 (The soil that arts and infant letters bore)
 His conq'ring tribes th' Arabian prophet draws,
 90 And saving Ignorance enthrones by Laws.
 See Christians, Jews, one heavy sabbath keep;
 And all the Western World believe and sleep.

Lo Rome herself, proud mistress now no more
 Of arts, but thund'ring against Heathen lore;
 95 Her gray-hair'd Synods damning books unread,
 And Bacon trembling for his brazen Head.
 Lo statues, temples, theatres o'erturn'd,
 Oh glorious ruin! and  burn'd.

See'st thou an Isle, by Palmers, Pilgrims trod,
 100 Men bearded, bald, cowl'd, uncowl'd, shod, unshod,
 Peel'd, patch'd, and pieball'd, linsey-woolsey brothers
 Grave mummers, sleeveless some, and shirtless others.

That once was Britain—Happy! had she seen
 No fiercer sons, had * Easter never been.
 105 In peace, great Goddess! ever be ador'd;
 How keen the war, if dulness draw the sword!
 Thus visit not thy own! on this blest age
 Oh spread thy Influence, but restrain thy Rage!

And see my son, the hour is on its way
 110 That lifts our Goddess to imperial sway:
 This fav'rite Isle, long sever'd from her reign,
 Dove-like, she gathers to her wings again.
 Now look thro' Fate! behold the scene she draws!
 What aids, what armies, to assert her cause!
 115 See all her progeny, illustrious fight!
 Behold, and count them as they rise to light!
 As Berecynthia, while her offspring vye
 In homage, to the mother of the sky,
 Surveys around her in the blest abode
 120 A hundred sons, and ev'ry son a God!

* Wars in England anciently, about the right time of celebrating Easter.

Not

Not with less glory mighty Dulness crown'd;
 Shall take thro' Grubstreet her triumphant round,
 And all Parnassus glancing o'er at once,
 Behold a hundred fons; and each a dunce.

125 Mark first the youth who takes the foremost place
 And thrusts his person full into your face,
 With all thy Father's virtues blest, be born!
 And a new C—— shall the stage adorn.

See yet a younger, by his blushes known,
 130 And modest as the maid who sips alone.
 From the strong fate of drams if thou get free,
 Another Durfey,  shall sing in thee.
 For thee each Ale-house, and each Gill-house mourn,
 And answering Gin-shops sower sighs return.

135 Behold yon pair, in strict embraces join'd;
 How like their manners, and how like their mind!
 Fam'd for good nature, B—— and for truth,
 D—— for pious passion to the youth.

Equal

Equal in wit, and equally polite,

140 Shall this a Pasquin, that a Grumbler write;

Like are their merits, like rewards they share,

That shines a Consul, this Commissioner.

Ah D——, G—— ah! what ill-starr'd rage

Divides a friendship long confirm'd by age?

145 Blockheads with reason wicked wits abhor,

But fool with fool is barb'rous, civil war.

Embrace, embrace my Sons! be foes no more!

Nor glad vile Poets with true Criticks gore.

See next two slipshod Muses traipse along,

150 In lofty madness meditating song,

With tresses staring from poetic dreams,

And never wash'd, but in Castalia's streams.

H—— and T——, glories of their race!

Lo H——'s fierce, and M——'s rueful face!

155 W——, the scourge of Scripture, mark with awe!

And mighty Y——'s Blunderbus of Law!

Lo thousand thousand, ev'ry nameless name,

All crowd, who foremost shall be damn'd to fame;

How

BOOK the THIRD.

043

How proud! how pale! how earnest all appear!

160 How rhymes eternal gingle in their ear!

Pass these to nobler fights: Lo H--- stands

Tuning his voice, and balancing his hands,

How honey'd nonsense trickles from his tongue!

How sweet the periods, neither said nor sung!

165 Still break the benches, H--- with thy strain,

While K-----, Br-----, W----- preach in vain

Round him, each Science by its modern type

Stands known; Divinity with box and pipe,

And proud Philosophy with breeches tore,

170 And English Musick with a dismal score:

While happier Hist'ry with her comrade Ale,

Sooths the sad series of her tedious tale.

Fast by, in darkness palpable inslin'd

W--s, B--s, M--s, all the poring kind,

175 A lumberhouse of Books in every head,

Are ever reading, and are never read.

But

But who is he, in closet close y-pent,
 With visage from his shelves with dust besprent?
 Right well mine eyes arede that myfter wight,
 180 That wonnes in haulkes and hernes, and ~~H~~— he hight
 To future ages may thy dulness last,
 As thou preserv'st the dulness of the past!

But oh! what scenes, what miracles behind?
 Now stretch thy view, and open all thy mind.

185 He look'd, and saw a fable * seer arise,
 Swift to whose hand a winged volume flies.
 All sudden, gorgons hiss, and dragons glare,
 And ten horn'd fiends, and giants, threaten war.
 Hell rises, heav'n descends, to dance on earth:
 190 Gods, monsters, furies, mæstic, rage and mirth
 A fire, a jig, a battel, and a ball,
 'Till one wide conflagration swallows all.

Then a new world to nature's laws unknown,
 Refulgent rises, with a heav'n its own:

Another

195 Another Cynthia her new journey runs,
 And other planets circle other suns:
 The forests dance, the rivers upward rise,
 Whales sport in woods, and dolphins in the skies;
 And last, to give the whole creation grace,
 200 Lo! one vast Egg produces human race.

Silent the monarch gaz'd; yet ask'd in thought
 What God or Dæmon all these wonders wrought?
 To whom the Sire: In yonder cloud, behold,
 Whose farcenet skirts are edg'd with flamy gold,
 205 A godlike youth: 'See Jove's own bolts he flings,
 Rolls the loud thunder, and the light'ning wings!
 Angel of Dulness, sent to scatter round
 Her magic charms on all unclassic ground:
 Yon stars, yon suns, he rears at pleasure higher,
 210 Illumes their light, and sets their flames on fire.
 Immortal R—b! how calm he sits at ease,
 Mid snows of paper, and fierce hail of pease?
 And proud his mistress' orders to perform,
 Rides in the whirlwind, and directs the storm.

But

215 But lo! to dark encounter in mid air,
 New wizards rise: here B—th, and C—r there;
B—th in his cloudy tabernacle shrin'd,
 On grinning dragons C—r mounts the wind:
 Dire is the conflict, dismal is the din,
 220 Here shouts all Drury, there all Lincoln's-Inn;
 Contending Theatres our empire raise,
 Alike their labours, and alike their praise.

And are these wonders, Son, to thee unknown?
 Unknown to thee? These wonders are thy own.
 225 These Fate reserv'd to grace thy reign divine,
 Foreseen by me, but ah! with-held from mine.
 In Lud's old walls tho' long I rul'd renown'd,
 Far as loud Bow's stupendous bells resound;
 Tho' my own Aldermen conferr'd my bays,
 230 To me committing their eternal praise,
 Their full-fed Heroes, their pacific May'rs,
 Their annual trophies, and their monthly wars:

Tho'

Tho' † long my Party built on me their hopes,
 For writing Pamphlets, and for roasting Popes
 235 (Different our parties, but with equal grace
 Our Goddess smiles on Whig and Tory race,
 'Tis the same rope at sev'ral ends they twist,
 To Dulness, Ridpath is as dear as Mist.)
 Yet lo! in me what Authors have to brag on 240 Reduc'd at last to his in my own dragon
 Avert it, heav'n! that thou or C——
 Should wag two serpent tails in Smithfield fair
 Like the vile straw that's blown about the streets,
 The needy Poet sticks to all he meets,
 245 Coach'd, carted, trod upon, now loose, now fast,
 In the Dog's tail his progress ends at last.
 Happier thy fortunes! like a rolling stone
 Thy giddy dulness still shall lumber on,
 Safe in its heaviness, can never stray,
 250 And licks up every blockhead in the way.

† Sente was once famous for party papers; but very uncertain in his political principles. He was employ'd to hold the pen in the Character of a popish successor, but afterwards printed his Narrative on the contrary side.

He managed the ceremony and pageants at the burning of a famous Pope; and was at length employ'd in making the machinery at Bartholomew fair, where, in his old age he acted in a leathern dragon of his own invention.

F

Thy

Thy dragons shall stand at thy side,
 And from each show rise diller than the list:
 'Till raised from Booths to Theatre, to Court,
 Her seat imperial Dulness shall transport.
 255 (Already, Opera prepares the way,
 The sure forerunner of her gentle sway.)
 To aid her cause, if heav'n thou canst not bend,
 Hell thou shalt move; for Faustus is thy friend:
Plato with Cato thou for her shalt join,
 260 And link the Mourning-Bride to Proserpine.
Grubstreet! thy fall should men and Gods conspire,
 Thy stage shall stand, ensure it but from Fire,
 Another Æschylus appears! Prepare
 For new * Abortions, all ye pregnant fair!
 265 In flames like Semeles be brought to bed,
 While opening Hell spouts wild-fire at your head.

Now Ravins take the poppy from thy brow,
 And place it here! here all ye Heroes bow!

* It is reported of Æschylus that when his Tragedy of the Eumenides was acted, the audience were so terrified that the children fell into fits, and the bigbelly'd women miscarry'd. This is translating this Author.

This,

BOOK the THIRD.

51

This, this is He, foretold by ancient rhymes,

270 Th' Augustus, born to bring Saturnian times!
Beneath his reign, shall E——n wear the bays,
C——r preside, Lord Chancellor of Plays,
B——n sole judge of Architecture sit,
And A—s P——s be preferr'd for Wit!

275 I see th' unfinish'd Dormitory wall!
I see the Savoy totter to her fall!
The sons of Isis reel! the towns-mens sports;
And Alma Mater all dissolv'd in Port!

Then, when these signs declare the mighty Year,
280 When the dull Stars roll round, and re-appear;
Let there be darkness! (the dread pow'r shall say)
All shall be darkness, as it ne'er were Day;
To their first Chaos Wit's vain works shall fall,
And universal Dulness cover all!

285 No more the Monarch could such raptures bear;
He wak'd, and all the Vision mix'd with air.

F I N I S.

This, this is the forecast by ancient signs,
 To the Argives, torn to pieces, torn to shreds,
 Beneath his reign, shall I ——— wear the badge
 Of ———, prince, Lord Chancellor of France,
 B ——— a sole judge of Architecture be
 And ——— be provided for Will!
 I see the unending Dormitory wall!
 I see the empty tower to her fall!
 The sons of the soil! the towns men fight
 And know their all divided in two!

 When the dull stars ——— and reappear
 The ——— (and how's that?)

 To their first Chase Will's vain words shall fall,
 And universal Darkness cover all!
